HORNER OPPOSES SALARY RAISES BOARD PROVIDES

Supervisor Says He Will Continue to Vote Against, On Ground of Economy.

Supervisor Robert Horner is absolutely opposed to the numerous salary raises the majority of the board has voted for. He voted from first to last against the raises and declared today that he would continue so to vote.

"I am flatly opposed to these raises because of the strained condition of city finances already," he says. "Even granting that the raises are deserved, the city cannot afford it. When the bill comes up for second reading I shall ask, in case the board is determined that raises be given, that the raises shall be for small amounts, say $5 or $10 instead of $25, etc. We have no right, in my opinion, to make the raises proposed. I am for economy and expect to vote for economy."

DEATH REMOVES FORMER ISLAND BOY ON COAST

Relatives here have received the news of the death of Hugh P. McCarriston, which took place at the residence of J. C. Peckert, San Francisco, on June 15. He died suddenly. The body was buried in Holy Cross cemetery, San Francisco, from the Mission Dolores church.

McCarriston was 35 years and 4 months old at the time of death. He left Honolulu about eight years ago, worked on Angel Island and elsewhere. He was the second son of Dr. McCarriston of Kamalo, Molokai, and the nephew of H. McCarriston of this city.

He is survived by the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Otto S. Meyer of Kailua, Molokai; Mrs. E. V. Dunn of Kaimakulani, Molokai; Mrs. F. H. Foster, Miss Aileen McCarriston, Edward and Sam McCarriston of Kamalo, Molokai.

GAME-SHOOTERS MUST BE WISE

Paul R. Isenberg's advertisement that anyone found trespassing or shooting on any of the Wai'alae or Kala-hala lands under his control will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law and that all permits heretofore given are revoked, has started several of "said" permit-holders wondering "what's the matter?"

The reason is that Mr. Isenberg likes birds and is afraid some new ones which he has recently imported will be shot down by indiscriminate hunters, so he has called off everybody for awhile. It is intimated, however, that those who hold permits may have no particular trouble in getting them renewed if they can prove they know a dove from a hawk and promise to shoot discreetly.

Mr. Isenberg tells the Star-Bulletin that he had turned loose a number of doves, quail and pheasants and although none had been shot as yet he is taking precautions against just such an occurrence.

BOARD AGREES WITH HOSPITAL LAW IS FAULTY

Workmen's Compensation Act Admittedly Does Not Provide Proper Hospital Charges

According to the industrial accident board the Workmen's Compensation Act now in the public eye through the action of the Queen's Hospital authorities, is a good law but needs fixing. Werner Roehl, superintendent of the Queen's Hospital, has refused to receive compensation patients unless payment for treatment is guaranteed by the employer, as told in the Star-Bulletin.

The Workmen's Compensation Act is just a year old today and has proved very satisfactory in most of its provisions, according to the board, but Section 12, referring to medical attention, is considered inadequate and open to legitimate objections. It reads in part as follows:

"During the first 14 days of disability the employer shall furnish reasonable surgical, medical and hospital services and supplies not exceeding the amount of $50."

It was stated in the industrial accident board office today that this provision is inconsistent because reasonable services for 14 days can not be furnished for $50. Although the industrial accident board is not particularly concerned, it has only to follow the law as written, still it believes this section should be changed by the next legislature.

Not only do Roehl and the Queen's Hospital authorities object to this provision but also to that providing for compensation when a patient is disabled for more than 14 days. This reads:

"Where the injury causes total disability for work the employed during such disability, but not including the first 14 days thereof, shall pay the injured employee a weekly compensation equal to 60 per cent of his average weekly wages."

Roehl maintains that the whole of the average weekly wage would not pay costs incurred at the hospital, to say nothing of only 60 per cent of that wage—the accident board bears him out in this—and since most fracture cases are in the hospital more than 14 days the institution is losing money on the case all the time, says Roehl.
